1,000 POUNDS OF DOOR PULL RESISTANCE

We tested our Valet Vault doors against the doors of our competition, and like we thought, it turns out that we don't really have any competition. Our doors withstood 1,000 pounds of pull resistance before there was any loss of structural integrity. Our "competitors" fell embarrassingly short of 100 pounds of resistance. Which door would you rather have protecting your patron's valuable assets?
